He certainly won the hearts of that

W. O. T. U. MEETING.

Passed Resolutions Against Reading the Comic Supplements.

The W. O. T. U. held their regular meeting at the residence of Mrs. J.
S. Sherrill the president, at 4 p. m.
Thursday. The exercises began by a scripture lesson by the president followed by prayer by Mrs. Hewitt.
A round table talk, as suggested by the year book was the principal feature of the evening. The subject was "The Summer Vacation to the Best Advantage." Each lady gave her idea of how we should spend the hot summer months.

Another subject was "How to Make Suggestions Invited an interesting article from the Mothers Magazine on the Home Comfortable in Summer."
"Making Back Yards Attractive" was read. The finances of the union were discussed and the treasurer, Mrs. Halley was requested to send the amount pledged to Mrs. Curtis to assist in defraying the expenses of headquarters in Waco.

No action was taken as to the preference of the union for governor. A resolution was introduced by Miss Armstrong, state press correspondent, pre-acting against the reading of the comic supplement to the Sunday papers. After much discussion the resolution was adopted. This resolution has been adopted by the Nation at large because of the demoralizing effect of these sheets upon the minds of the young people and little children.
